Best Practices Forklift Rental Tips

When you should rent a machine

Renting forklifts eliminates the large upfront capital investment of purchasing, which can range from $20,000 to $50,000 or more for a new model. It also removes the ongoing cost of maintenance, repairs, and compliance inspections. For smaller companies or those with tight cash flow, renting can be more financially manageable, since it becomes an operational expense rather than a capital investment.
